

DOWN THE ALLEYS

Bowling the past week on the Forest Hill alleys was of the highest order, and many new marks were set by both the men and women bowlers. Several new names were added to the list, and the game was played with the large crowds present.

The gold medal contest continues to draw large crowds, and each night a change is made in the standing column. Miss Barbara Jones carried off the high honor for the week in the women's division, and she is now leading in the contest, with the good score of 163.

Day showed great form Thursday night in the series with the Noides' Tip Tops team, and captured the honor for high individual score and high total.

One of the most interesting match games played this season was played Thursday night on the Forest Hill alleys, when the Noides' Tip Tops team and the Times-Dispatch team battled for honors in a three-game series. The newspaper boys came out victorious, defeating the breadmakers two out of three games. Bell, Spilling and Day were the stars of the series.

Miss Esther Hertzberg made a nice record last week with the big pins, and she finished with nice total in a three-game series.

New League Formed. President Frank Overman of the Greater Richmond Bowling League, Walter Whitman has now organized a summer ten pin league, to play during the summer months on the Forest Hill alleys. The new league will consist of four string clubs, and games have been scheduled for every Tuesday and Thursday night.

The management of the Forest Hill Alleys has offered to give prizes to the individual players of each team and also to the winning team of the new league.

sells shoots breaking across the plate and Irelan walked. Whitman then scored Nash with his second two-bagger of the game. Flynn flew up to A.

Richmond had a chance to take the lead in the second, but Umpire Harrison robbed them of it by his rotten decisions, followed by his ejection of Bates and Dunn from the field. Bates had kicked justly at a called ball, and was put out. Dunn was put out a minute later. Russell started the inning by walking. Thompson flew out. Pick singled and went to second. Bates was then put out and Ruben Meadows, who took his place, fanned. Arragon flew out to Nash.

At the opening of the third, Irelan, Bates and her missles flew at Harrison, and police were called upon to quell the impending riot. After things settled down, Devin fanned. Smith flew out to Arragon. Holmes walked and Howley struck out. A double play after that had on, spoiled the chances of the Climbers to score in the third.

Umpire Harrison displayed a little more of his spleen in the fourth by putting Morrisette off the field for talking from the bench. Russell, in this frame, fanned. Cadore, Nash and Irelan in a row, making nine in four innings.

The Climbers broke the tie in their portion of the fourth. Russell struck out, but Thompson and Pick each singled. Meadows struck out. Arragon followed with a single to left, scoring Thompson. Pick was out trying to go to third.

The Climbers tied it up again in the fifth. Whitman clouted out a triple to center, which would have been an easy out had Bates been in the center garden. Russell made Flynn walk, but Whitman came in on a single by Devin. Smith walked, but Holden and Howley flew out. The Climbers went out one-two-three.

Russell fanned another in the sixth, and Umpire Harrison again appealed to the police, and bluecoats were put in the stands and bleachers to keep the crowd from throwing at the pitcher. The Royals got into the lead on a walk, a double by Thompson and a sacrifice fly by Pick.

The Royals broke the tie and forged ahead in the seventh. Russell was touched up for three hits in a row. Whitman singled, making his fourth hit of the game. Flynn singled and Devin doubled to center. Russell fanned Smith. Holden grounded out and Howley hit up to Crane, who repaid him with a sacrifice fly.

Richmond had an opportunity to tie it up in the seventh, but Cadore pitched the ball, Arragon had led with a long fly to center, which was fielded by Smith. Tim Jordan then tripled when Healy and Fawcett struck out.

Three more runs were hunk up by the Royals in the eighth, although Russell fanned three men. Nash singled, and Irelan singled. Whitman struck out, but Flynn brought Nash in with an infield hit. Devin then doubled, scoring two. Smith struck out.

A great one-hand catch by Whitman of a hard drive to center robbed Shag Thompson of a three-base hit. Schaefle had napped up to Devin and Russell struck out.

Holden led the ninth with a single, but the next three men went out in order.

The Climbers got two runs in the ninth. Pick led with a single to center. Crane struck out. Arragon walked. Jordan beat out an infield hit. Healy hit to the pitcher, who threw Pick out at the plate. Healy was safe when Howley hit him with the ball on his way to first. Fawcett was struck by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Schaefle drove up a pop fly which nobody tried to get. Russell then struck out with three on.

TWO PITCHERS' BATTLES

HARRISBURG, PA., July 10.—The Royals and Indians battled to-day in two sensational pitchers' battles. Chabek won the first, 2 to 0. His Chabek in places tied up many Buffalo runners on bases. Hader, the slight weak spell in the sixth. The Royals landed the second on timely hits in the tenth. Lee pitched a good game, pulling out of several holes. Both games were first-felding contests.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT OF RAILROAD EARNINGS

Fiscal Year Figures Will Show That Chesapeake and Ohio Has "Turned the Corner."

IMPROVEMENT ON SOUTHERN

Officials Optimistic and Are Spending Immense Sums on Improvements, Notwithstanding Losses of First Few Months of War in Europe.

The preliminary statement of the earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, made public at the New York office of the company yesterday, places a gain of the earnings of the road for the fiscal year ending June 30 last at $1,919,018, or 5 1/2 per cent over the total for the preceding year. No official analysis of the figures accompanying the statement and none is expected until a complete report of the year's business is available.

The statement is based on the actual figures for the first eleven months and the estimated earnings for the month of June. For the month of June the earnings are given as $3,550,992, as against $3,277,084 in June, 1914, an increase of $273,908, or nearly 10 per cent.

For the fourth week in June the earnings were above the average for the month, showing an increase of 17 per cent. The total for this week in June, 1915, was $1,239,591 as against $1,066,808 for the same week a year ago, a gain of $172,783.

INDICATES TURN OF CORNER

The showing is regarded in railroad circles as especially satisfactory, in view of the general conditions in the territory in which the Chesapeake and Ohio operates. It indicates that the road has successfully "turned the corner" from the depression which set in previous to the war in Europe and which continued for the first six or eight months of the fiscal year of 1914-15.

The increased coal, grain and live stock shipments to southern markets, of which are for export to England and France, have been of great value to the Chesapeake and Ohio in getting back upon its former basis of prosperity.

With the estimated earnings of the Southern Railway for the fiscal year ending June 30 available for the first time, the extent to which this system has been hit by the European war can be placed in dollars and cents with some degree of certainty. The decrease in earnings from the total for the preceding year, which was none too prosperous, is $8,603,630, or 12 per cent.

However, the situation is improving, so far as the Southern is concerned. For five months after the war in Europe started, tying up the cotton market and putting all kinds of business in the South in a bad way, the average decrease in the earnings was in excess of 20 per cent, while the average decrease for the year is 12 per cent.

OPTIMISM OF SOUTHERN'S GENERAL OFFICIALS SHOWN

There is one rather remarkable feature about the Southern's affairs, and that is the optimism of the system's officials. While its earnings for the year have gone down more than $8,000,000, approximately that amount has been spent in permanent improvements during the last twelve months. Much has been done for double-tracking, new buildings, improved yard facilities, and other work, all of which indicates the faith of President Fairfax Harrison and his associates in the railroad's future.

The city of Richmond and the Counties of Henrico, Culpeper, Albemarle and Pittsylvania came in for an appreciable share of the money spent in improvements.

The money to finance these improvements was secured just before the outbreak of the war in Europe, and the entire amount—approximately $20,000,000—will be spent in the South. What has already gone out has been a big help in many communities which suffered from a stagnation of trade last summer.

For the year from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, the earnings of the Southern were $62,147,315, as compared with $70,760,998 for the preceding twelve months. For June the decrease was 10 per cent, the earnings dropping from $6,282,400 to $4,691,369. The fourth week in June showed a decrease of 9 per cent. The total for this week in 1915 was $1,473,977; last year, $1,624,040, a decrease of $150,062.

SEALED REPORT SUBJECT OF MUCH SPECULATION

Friends of Commissioners Goode, Weil and McCarthy Make Light of Rumors.

WHOLE BOARD CRITICIZED

This Is View of Many—Others Expect Drastic Recommendations Looking to Impeachment or Removal of Accused Men.

Friends of Police Commissioners R. N. Goode, Cliff Weil and D. F. McCarthy are disposed to make light of the rumor that the resignations of two of the commissioners are called for in the sealed report of the investigators, which will go to the Board of Aldermen at the meeting to be held next Tuesday night.

Some of the most intimate friends of the three commissioners admit the belief that all have been censured sharply. They are inclined, however, to believe that the Board of Police Commissioners as a whole is criticized in the report for certain official acts, which are specified, the findings in this respect being based upon records of the board produced in evidence by City Attorney Pollard.

Disbelief in the prediction that the report of the inquisitorial body will carry a recommendation that Commissioners Weil and Goode resign is based upon the committee's adherence to the instructions contained in the resolution adopted by the City Council, calling for the inquiry. It is pointed out that the committee of seven was delegated to sift the charges contained in the Vice Commissioner's report to Mayor Ansley and to extend their probe into the police department as a whole.

SEE NO REASON FOR ASKING RESIGNATIONS

The friends of the commissioners then proceed to argue that the committee could not consistently recommend the resignation of the accused commissioners, for the reason that the plain duty of the probers was to ascertain whether their acts had rendered them unfit for the positions they held, and to recommend to the City Council that the accused men be deposed from office, be reprimanded for their official or personal conduct or be given a clean bill of health.

In support of this course of reasoning they point to the fact that at the opening of the inquiry the committee adopted a resolution by which it bound itself to observe in the taking of testimony the rules of procedure governing the examination of witnesses in a law court. Parenthetically, they attribute the failure of the committee to continue in harmony at the final executive sessions to the insistence of Councilman Edgar B. English, the lawyer member of the body, upon abiding by that resolution.

DUTY OF COMMITTEE TO PUNISH OR VINDICATE. In the same train, it is argued that, under the resolution, the committee placed itself in the attitude of a jury, and as a jury, it could not consistently suggest the punishment the accused men should inflict upon themselves. Rather, it would be the duty of the jury, the argument goes, to state plainly in the verdict whether the men are guilty or innocent, and to recommend to the court, which is the investigating committee, that a penalty clearly specified, such as impeachment for the purpose of removal from office, be imposed if they are found guilty, and if they are not guilty that they be vindicated.

While the members of the committee decline to discuss the report in any of its details, the impression is strong that three of the body, Aldermen Workman and Melton and Councilman English refused to sign the majority report, and that a minority report was drawn, to which they subscribed their names.

Chairman Barton H. Grundy explains the circumstances of forwarding the sealed report first to the Board of Aldermen.

"The committee adopted a resolution offered by me," Colonel Grundy says, "providing that the findings and recommendations should be submitted first to the branch of Council in which the resolution calling for the inquiry originated."

Portland Loses in Deal. Portland's deal with the Phillies for Dave Bancroft was anything but a profitable one. It got Herb Murphy and Milton, in addition to some cash. Murphy failed to deliver, and was sent to the Northwestern League, where he is, however, a bearded, red-jumped to the Reds, but they let him go later and then Portland sent him transportation to Atlanta. He made the league trip, the best, played in a couple of games and was turned adrift, as he showed nothing.

Baker Enters Championships. NEW YORK, July 10.—Against the advice of a physician, Homer Baker, the international half mile champion, has entered for the half mile run in the national championship at San Francisco. Baker was injured in a motorcycle accident several weeks ago, and was advised to keep out of any contests this summer.
